The DIMMER VIEW

IRS Looks at Religion

No one has disputed the maxim that the power to tax is the power to destroy.

And the U.S. Press Association opined recently that government, carrying this power, is much like a fire — it can be a useful servant or it can be a fearful master.

Then there is the U.S. Supreme Court which treads on extremely dangerous ground.

Specifically, it is the Court's ruling against a religious school — Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. Carolina — and of an Internal Revenue Service move to deny the tax-exempt status of the school.

BJU is an independent, fundamentalist religious school. It has a policy based on religious conviction of no admission to black students. The school says its policy is based upon the religious conviction of the school that God intends the races of mankind to be segregated, and further, that the Bible, which the school holds to be the Word of God, forbids interracial marriage.

Everyone is free to agree or disagree with this interpretation of the Scriptures and that is one of the great features of American liberty and independence.

At least, up to now.

In 1970 IRS announced a new policy that would no longer allow tax-exemption to private schools failing to provide "proof" of a "non-discriminatory admissions policy." When BJU did not provide proof, the IRS began procedures designed to revoke the school's tax exemptions.

The U.S. District Court in South Carolina enjoined IRS from proceeding with its proposed action against BJU. However, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit reversed the lower Court. This ruling was then appealed to the Supreme Court, which upheld the Court of Appeals on the narrow ground that a court — any court, apparently — cannot enjoin IRS from lifting the tax-exempt status of the school.

Presently, Bob Jones University still has its tax-exempt status and tax-exempt contributions may still be made, as the contending parties ponder their next moves.

In the meantime, however, IRS ventured upon very dangerous ground.

Since when does a non-elected bureaucrat in government have the power to take action against an institution on the basis that the religious convictions of that institution are not in accord with official government policy?

Is the commissioner of IRS empowered to penalize any organization which holds to religious convictions that are, or may be, unpopular?

Is not such action terrifyingly similar to that which we observe in the Soviet Union and behind the Iron Curtain?

If the courts rule ultimately against BJU in this matter, then what action will the Commissioner of the IRS take against other religious groups or individuals with whom it disagrees?

What will happen to the principle of separation of church and state?

It has nothing to do with a citizen's view of segregation and the reporting here is not intended to support or encourage segregation.

But the IRS is involved in a matter which exceeds its authority. It could, by such action, be re-writing the Constitution.

And you didn't vote for them to do that!

Education Note

Dr. Dennis McLaughlin, the Lemon Grove dentist, said earlier this week that his suspicions regarding modern education had been confirmed.

He saw it when a hitchhiker standing at a freeway on-ramp seeking a lift to school. He was holding a sign listing his destination.

The sign read "Grossmont Collage."

"Possibly a English major," Dr. McLaughlin mused.

Streakers in Alabama

Say what you will, small communities have a way of exacting fairer penalties from wrongdoers than do the big cities.

According to Carolyn Moss who lives on Sanford dr. in Lemon Grove, nothing could have been fairer than the penalty the judge laid on two young streakers recently in her home town of Chatom, Alabama.

The streakers, so stated the hometown newspaper, were caught red hand—, pardon, we mean bare bottomed.

They were taken before the local department of justice in the same dress in which they were caught. The judge, in his wisdom, fined the boys $25 each.

If that wasn't humiliating enough, he sent the boys home in a squad car. He sent their clothes a day later.

VP G. Ford to Address GOPs

Vice-President Gerlad Ford will be the principal speaker at the 24th annual banquet of San Diego County Republican Central Committee on July 30, at the Town and Country Convention Center in Mission Valley. Tickets are now on sale at $125 a plate.

The proceeds from the annual fund raiser support the party organization, county precinct work and Republican candidates. Last year's dinner made over $40,000 available for these purposes.

Rear Adm. Leslie Gehres, USN (Ret.), Chairman of the San Diego county committee said that advance ticket sales have been excellent. He said that $5,500 has been received already from gold card members who give early support to the banquet.

Seating for the banquet will be arranged in order of ticket purchases, with early buyers enjoying the front tables.

W. Dorman Given YMCA 50 Year Award

Wallace D. Dorman, a Lemon Grove attorney, was initiated as a first time fifty year member at a recent Red Triangle Award dinner for the YMCA. A special gold table was set at the dinner for distinguished members with fifty or more years of service.

The Red Triangle Award is a YMCA tradition and is presented to laymen who foster the YMCA principles of development of body, mind and spirit.

Dorman was one of 23 members with 1,349 total years of service honored at the dinner. It was held at the Atlantis Restaurant.

Heart Group Gives Award To L.G. REVIEW

San Diego County's emergency and rescue personnel were honored Monday night during the 24th annual meeting of the San Diego County Heart Association held at the Convention Center at Vacation Village.

Emergency and rescue vehicles and equipment were displayed at the meeting by the San Diego County Sheriff's Department, the San Diego Police and Fire Departments, San Diego City Life Guards, Santee Fire Department, Dyna Med, Inc., and Medical Life Systems. Also, mobile intensive care units were displayed by two private ambulance firms.

Dr. James E. Lasry, president of the Heart Association, presented a special plaque to NBC-TV's "Emergency" for its outstanding contribution in creating public awareness of the importance of cardiopulmonary resuscitation and the need for paramedics in health delivery systems. Kevin Tighe, who plays a paramedia on the series, accepted the award.

Mass Media Awards

Ron Pinkard, also of the series, presented Heart plaques to local mass media personnel. An outstanding media award went to James R. Martinez, community affairs director of KOGO-Radio. Special media awards were given to Shirley Clum of KFMB-TV, Don Howard of KOGO Radio, Max Goodwin of the Lemon Grove Review, and the La Jolla Light and Journal.

The Heart Association's Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Committee, chaired by Roy Lewis, was also honored at the meeting for its training programs for emergency and rescue personnel throughout the county.

Guest speaker at the annual meeting was Dr. Marvin L. Auerback, associate clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. He spoke on "The Serendipitous Evolution of Heart Disease."

Burnt Church Reopens

Historic Church to be Rededicated Sunday

Fr. Phillip Bartlett, the first vicar of the parish, and Rector Kenneth R. Johnston, whose health began to fail when the church was reduced to ashes by an arsonist, will take part in the rededication ceremonies Sunday when St. Philip the Apostle Church at Palm and Hardy streets in Lemon Grove, becomes fully functional again.

The church has been completely rebuilt and Fr. Johnston's health is returning. And the parishioners will again worship in the historic structure.

In attendance Sunday at the rededication, in addition to Frs. Bartlett and Johnston, will be the bishop of the Episcopal Diocese, The Rt. Rev. Walter Munroe Wolterstorff, D.D.; The Rev. Canon C. Rankin Barnes, S.T.D., D.D. former rector of Old St. Paul's; The Rev. Francis J. Pryor, III, S.T.D. Former Rector of St. Dunstan's; The Rev. David Laird Barclay, present Rector of St. Dunstan's, San Diego; The Rev. Foster W. Powell, retired; and the Rev. James W. Watkins, M.Div. The Rev. Canon Charles L. Conder, Canon Missioner of the Diocese will be in procession.

The church was a part of the life of San Diego since 1887 as Old St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

A landmark for more than 60 years at the corner of 8th and C sts., San Diego, before its removal in 1948 to the State College campus, the historic building served the community faithfully. It continued to do so as St. Dunstan's Church in the college area. Beginning in January, 1970, the gallant old building was moved in nine sections to its present location and re-assembled.

It was dedicated as St. Philip the Apostle Church on September 20, 1971. On March 18, 1972 it was ravaged by fire. It has now been restored, retaining the original tower and skeletal walls. The stained glass windows have been replaced with exact copies of the old St. Paul's Church.

Even before the smoking ashes of the fire had cooled, the Rector, The Rev. Kenneth R. Johnson and members of the Vestry and Parish were determined to rebuild and a sign to that effect—"We Shall Rebuild" hung over the main entrance during that long struggle. Once again the unique victorian structure with its attractive spire dominates the landscape and will be rededicated to worship Sunday.

Those to be confirmed as the church is rededicated are:

Chester Montgomery Young
Henry Richard Borchers

TEEN-AGE TEACHER'S HELPER—Phillip Johnston monitors Margaret Mullen and Scott Lipe as a youthful teacher's assistant at Monterey Heights Elementary school.

Sups. Raise Own Pay $333 a Month

It was a split decision but the Supervisors sacrificed themselves.

The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday, in a 3-2 vote, gave themselves an increase in salary of $4,000 a year—$300 a month.

The job now pays $27,210 a year plus fringe benefits.

Supervisors Lou Conde and Lee Taylor announced that they would not accept the riase—unless they are reelected.

The raise was recommended by the Citizens Salary Review Committee.

The new rate will go into effect in 60 days.

Teacher's Aide Called 'Outstanding' At Monterey Heights Grade School

Phillip Johnson, 17, a Mount Miguel junior is attracting the attention of educators because of his "outstanding work" as a teacher's aide at Monterey Heights Elementary school.

He is the afternoon helper in the second grade room of Mrs. Marjorie Miller where 24 youngsters have been "learning with enthusiasm" because of him.

His normal working hours on school days are 12:30-3:30 "but he puts in many more hours than that," Mrs. Miller said.

"He's a fantastic person. The youngsters go out of their way to show how much they appreciate him. Frequently, when there are class projects, they say 'let's wait for Phillip to come'."

Phillip's philosophy is simple, but proper. "I like watching kids progress. It gives me a warm feeling."

Other Talents

In addition to serving as a teacher's aide, he shows other talents. He decorates the room for such events as Valentine's Day, Easter and Christmas vacation. At Christmas he completely canopied the second grade room. He does it with his own money and on his own time. "And the kids love it," Mrs. Miller said.

He also decorates the bulletin board but youngsters help him on a one-to-one basis—and they love it.

He has also given the whole class art and folk dancing lessons. Their response was gratifying.

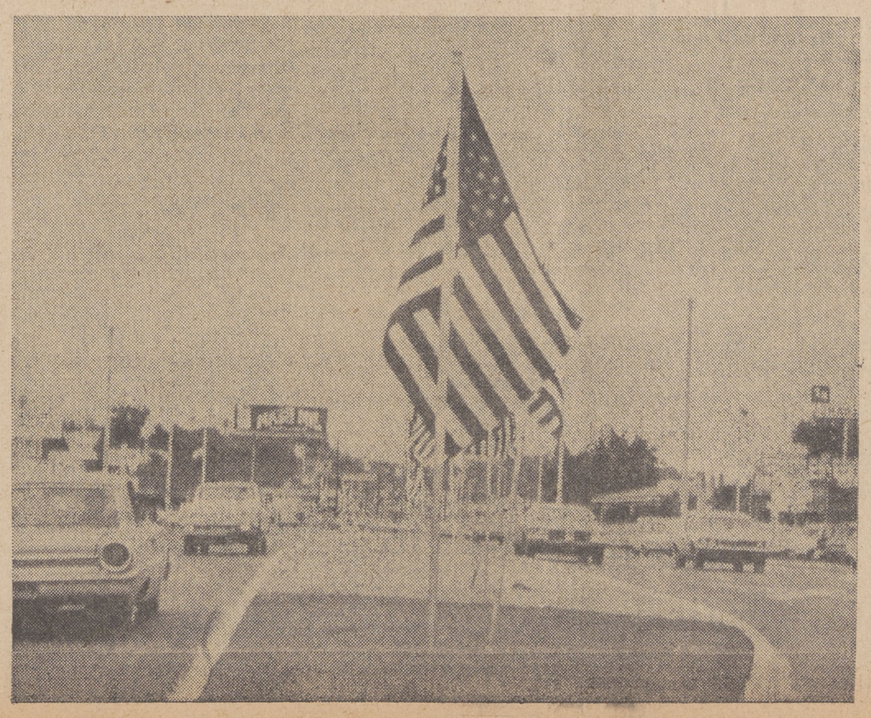
Phillip's title is "counselor-teacher preparation" "but he's so much more," they said at Monterey Heights school. "He's a self-starter. We don't have to tell him what to do. He anticipates the need and does the job. He's almost indispensable."

Phillip will attend Grossmont, then SDSU with the object of becoming a teacher of retarded children, eventually.

He is a member of the International Club, a group fashioned somewhat after the Fields Foreign Exchange organization. He will probably go abroad before he starts his career in earnest.

"He'll make a fine teacher," Mrs. Miller said.

Avenue of Flags for Lemon Grove



The Patriotic new look being given to Broadway in Lemon Grove is provided by the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Soroptimist club.

Flags will be raised from Olive to Kempf street every Friday, according to Mrs. Bernadine Southard, club president.

Soroptimists backed a recent election to landscape the road dividers in Lemon Grove—but the election failed. So the club has provided a string of 31 flags to be displayed regularly as a service to the community.

The first week, past president Mrs. Ivan Lauritzen and her husband installed them. Then Soroptimist husbands Ray Heisermann and Ernie Southard put them up. "We're looking for someone to do the job every week and on holidays," Mrs. Southard said. The job pays—but she didn't say how much.

Soroptimist is an international woman's service club, with classified professions.

Rotary Installs New Officers

Dale Bailey, youth pastor of the Skyline Wesleyan Church, was installed as president of the Lemon Grove Rotary Club Saturday at a dinner at Ox Bow Inn, Casa de Oro.

The Rotary club meets every Monday at noon at the Lemon Grove Bowlero.

Bailey succeeds Bob Guest as president.

Couppee is CoC Speaker Thurs.

Professional hockey was in the spotlight this morning at the San Diego Chamber of Commerce's "Sports Action '74" breakfast meeting. Dennis Murphy, president of the World Hockey League discussed his new league and its future in San Diego.

Athetic Commission member and well known San Diego sports figure, Al Couppee, will be the featured speaker the following Thursday June 20. He will share a sports perspective gained as a professional athlete, a veteran sportswriter/sportscaster . . . and as an all around fan.

The breakfast is open to the general public as well as media representatives and Chamber members. Breakfast begins at 7:30 a.m. and will be held in the Don Room of El Cortez Hotel. Cost is $3.75. Information and reservations can be made at the San Diego Chamber, 232-0124.

They're Deaf—But They're Winners

Bill Offenbaker teaches a primary class of the totally deaf at Casa de Oro Elementary school—and he loves it.

"I have great rapport with these youngsters," Offenbaker said. He should. He knows how it is to be handicapped. He was blind until he was 8 years of age.

He had a combination whooping cough and scarlet fever as an infant. Medical care partly overcame his handicap. He has vision in one eye now.

But this is about Offenbaker's youngsters. The primary class at Casa de Oro.

Simply put, they're the best in the state. And they're second best, too.

Earlier this month the class won first and second place in a statewide contest at Annaheim. They won it with movie films they made. There were 250-300 other films in competition. First place winner was their, "Christmas Is..." and they came right back with, "The First Thanksgiving" and that took second place.

Everything is Visual

That speaks well for Offenbaker's training. "With my kids everything has to be visual," he said. "They made the sets, wrote the scripts, and ran the cameras. They did the whole job," he said.

The class also took second and third place awards at TV KPBS' Young Filmmaker's educators media association for the best school film of the year.

Offenbaker, 34, has no youngsters of his own—except the seven in his class.

"We must give credit to the youngsters in Mrs. Marion Eskelson's 2nd and 3rd grade class. They helped us with the Thanksgiving film."

Awards were handed out Tuesday at school. "For most of the youngsters it was the first time they had ever achieved something. It gave them a tremendous boost. Most of their lives they have been 'put down' and their response was heart-warming."

DEWITT JOHN

Christian Science Director Calls for Moral Integrity

Today's need for moral integrity is "one of the most obvious urgencies in our society," Christian Scientists from many countries were told at the denomination's Annual Meeting in Boston June 3.

"No nation could long prosper while drifting into a miasma of moral blindness, public and private," DeWitt John, the new Chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, declared.

"Divine Principle (God) is the real source of integrity and justice for every nation," he said, "and our individual adherence to Principle is a powerful help in demonstrating God's government among men."

More than 6,500 members of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, were on hand.

According to Max Moll, the Assistant Committee on Publication for First Church of Christ, Scientist, Lemon Grove.

Mr. John told the gathering that there is an answer to the widespread confusion in the world.

"At the heart of all of today's needs," he said, "is the need for spiritualization of thought. Undestroyed, materialism is what would prevent healing ... and reduce society to confusion."

Mr. John was Editor of The Christian Science Monitor six years prior to joining the five-member Board of Directors in 1970. The new Chairman, a native of Arizona, is a graduate of Principia College and holds a Master of Arts degree in political science from the University of Chicago and a Master of Science degree in journalism from Columbia University.

In 1959 he entered the public practice of Christian Science and became a teacher of Christian Science six years later. He recently completed a tour of branch churches in Asia.

Mr. Eric Bole, a Trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society from London, reported on the progress of the denomination's international daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor, and noted that Portuguese and Spanish religious periodicals now are being printed monthly for the first time.

The theme of the meeting was "Spirituality — the Need for Today."

'Future Shock' Film Shown at LG Library

A free program consisting of two films, one based on Alvin Toffler's bestselling book, "Future Shock" and the other on the history of television, will be shown at the Lemon Grove Library on June 20 at 7 p.m.

Author Alvin Toffler believes we are living in an "Age of Anxiety". We are suffering, he contends, because of our constant bombardment and overstimulation by a high speed society and high speed change.

Rapid advancements in science and technology and the explosion of new knowledge affect every phase of our lives: marriage, family, religion, education, entertainment, recreation, or business — we live in a world in which nothing endures, Toffler feels. To Alvin Toffler, we are suffering from "Future Shock".

The other film, "Television Land", is a brief history of television, including clips from many of the most popular T.V. shows from 1948 to the present, strung together, making a nostalgis potpourri, one that is both poignant and ludicrous.

The Lemon Grove library is located at 7735 Pacific ave. For program details, call 463-9819.

This Week's RECIPE

Zucchini, that Italian vegetable that people always mistake for a cucumber, is very reasonable and has a marvelous way of accenting but not overpowering whatever it is served with.

This dish combines tomatoes, celery, zucchini and chicken to create a main dish with Italian zest. It would go well with noodles, a salad and maybe some spumoni ice cream for dessert.

Zucchini Chicken

2 medium zucchini
2 pounds of chicken parts
3 celery ribs
1 clove garlic
1/2 can drained tomatoes
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 medium size can tomato sauce

Cut your zucchini into diagonal bite-size pieces. Brown chicken in butter, pour off the excess fat. Add the sauce and seasonings. Cover and cook for 30 minutes. Stir occasionally. Add zucchini, celery and tomatoes. Cook 10 more minutes. Makes 4 servings.

$500 Million Spent On Illegitimate Children

One-fouth of the children currently receiving welfare in California are illegitimate and half a billion dollars a year is being spent in caring for them, according to a report released this week by the State Social Welfare Board.

Robert E. Mitchell, a Norwalk attorney and chairman of the State Social Welfare Board, announced the release of the report entitled "Unplanned Parenthood: A Study of Unwed Parents and the Potentially Endangered Child."

Mitchell said the report points out that three out of every four illegitimate children are born to mothers 24 and under, and two out of five are born to mothers who are 18 and under.

The board feels that much of the problem is caused by the lack of involvement of the male, both as a responsible adult and later, after a birth occurs, as a responsible father, Mitchell said. Most studies of the unwed father show that fathers of illegitimate children were in many, if not most cases, raised in female-dominated homes themselves. Thus it appears that the phenomenon of illegitimacy is cyclical.

The report offers both long-range and short-range solutions to the problem. Education of children in the "art of parenting" as well as the responsibilities of parenthood is the ultimate solution, according to the report. However, the board has recommended a "protective services system" to provide immediate help.

The board proposes that both parents sign the birth certificate and that paternity be legally established, where possible, within six months of the child's birth. Further, the board has recommended referral of all illegitimate births to a county protective services agency which would be required to determine on a case by case basis whether or not a child is adequately provided for or endangered.

In its report the board endorsed family planning services and called for statewide standards for family planning consultants. The board addressed the abortion issue, stating that it did not have enough facts in hand to adequately weigh the long-term consequences to society of current policy and law regarding abortion.

The board began its in-depth study almost two years ago after the release of its original position statement on illegitimacy. In this statement the board recommended that following the birth of a mother's third illegitimate child the courts be required to make a determination of her fitness to retain custody of that child.

The present report's failure to repeat this recommendation does not constitute a change of attitude, Mitchell said. The system now proposed would establish a case by case review of the living conditions of each child born out-of-wedlock rather than follow the plan set forth in the original report.

Mitchell said the board's report poses a basic question: Does society feel sufficiently concerned about the problems of the potentially endangered child to devote enough resources to insure adequate protection of this child's legal rights as well as provide for his physical and social needs?

Shakespeare Festival Celebrates 25th Year

San Diego's Shakespeare Festival is featured in the June issue of Sunset Magazine.

This summer the festival celebrates its 25th anniversary. There were several early stops and starts before the festival officially began in 1949.

Sunset reports that there will be three plays rotating at the Old Globe June 4 thru Sept. 15. Next door in the arena-style Cassius Carter Center Stage a modern musical will be playing beginning June 26.

The real pioneer of the Old Globe was Thomas Wood Stevens, who had produced Shakespeare successfully for the Century of Progress in Chicago. For the California Pacific International Exposition of 1935-36 in Balboa Park, he designed a replica of Elizabethan London's roofless Globe Theater and directed and produced 50-minute versions of Shakespeare's plays.

Through the next decade the Old Globe had a checkered career: saved from the wreckers by last-minute efforts of a citizen group, commandeered by the Navy for six years, restored as a community theater again.

The Shakespeare Festival finally began officially in 1949 with 22 performances of Twelfth Night, directed by B. Iden Payne and co-sponsored by San Diego Community Theater and San Diego State College.

Twelfth Night, Romeo and Juliet and Henry IV Part 2 will run this season at the Old Globe. Your Own Thing, a modern day musical version of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night will open at the Cassius Carter Center Stage next door.

YOU AND YOUR PET

by: Raymond A. Minor, D.V.M.

Concepts in Pet Vaccinations

It is reassuring to know that the major, infectious diseases of dogs and cats can be prevented through sound vaccination programs. Dogs should be vaccinated for distemper (the most prevalent of all canine diseases), hepatitis, leptospirosis, and rabies. Vaccination for the first three diseases are often combined in a single "D-H-L" inoculation. Feline vaccinations should include those for feline distemper, rabies and perhaps pneumonitis if it is locally prevalent.

Let's briefly set forth the basic programs incorporating these vaccinations, and also discuss a new concept in canine distemper vaccination that will be of particular interest to breeders and owners of new puppies.

Canine Vaccinations

Puppies receive what are known as maternal antibodies from their mother's milk. These antibodies temporarily protect the pup from specific diseases which the mother is immune to. If the mother has distemper immunity, for example, she will pass on distemper antibodies. If the antibody level is high enough, it will neutralize the effects of vaccination. For this reason, your veterinarian will generally recommend a series of distemper, distemperlhepatitis (D-H), or D-H-L- shots for a puppy beginning at 6 weeks of age. At that time, the pup's maternal antibodies for distemper begin to subside. A series of vaccinations greatly improves the pup's chances of being protected as soon as the antibody level permits.

Rabies is less prevalent than distemper, and a veterinarian will generally give a pup its initial vaccination at three months of age. Annual revaccination for both distemper and rabies is usually given.

The Distemper-Measles Concept

Researchers have discovered that human measles virus will protect puppies between 6 and 12 weeks of age from canine distemper and will be unaffected by thep up's maternal antibodies for distemper. The distemper-measles concept for distemper protection has been perfected in a new vaccine, now available from your veterinarian, which is capable of protecting pups against distemper better than ever before. Your veterinarian can give you details about it.

Feline Vaccinations

Feline distemper, like its counterpart in dogs, is a prevalent disease in cats. For kittens, your veterinarian will administer a distemper vaccine at about 9 weeks of age, when the kitten's maternal antibody levels will have subsided.

Your veterinarian may give a second dose several weeks after the initial inoculation to insure that he has avoided maternal antibody interference. Feline rabies vaccination is usually given ta 3 months of age, and an annual revocination for both distemper and rabies is recommended.

Dr. Minor regrets that he is unable to personally answer letters from pet owners. He suggests that readers consult theor own veterinarians when their pets have problems.

County YMCAs Seek Improvement Funds

A fund-raising goal of $100,000 has been set for improvements to the John A. Davis YMCA in La Mesa — the Y facility that administers to the east county.

John Thomas Warburton, former president of the L. G. Kiwanis club and later superintendent of the Grossmont Union High School District, has been named chairman of the Davis element of the campaign.

The theme of the total campaign involving all nine facilities under YMCA banner is "A Covenant With Tomorrow" and the overall goal is $5,755,000. This includes $3 million replacement of the downtown Y and the Ira S. Copley Memorial Y.

Warburton said that the campaign, when completed will "provide the necessary facilities to adequately meet the present and future needs of the community. The Davis facilities serve people from Lemon Grove to Lakeside and San Carlos to Alpine."

Warburton said that the present John A. Davis buildings were constructed in the '60s to accommodate 1,000 participants and that today that number has increased by four times. Pool use has increased by 300%, he said.

"The new locker-shower facility under construction is necessary to meet city health department standards," Warburton continued. "We also need a physical fitness room to assist individuals interested in keeping fit."

The cost of the two projects is estimated at $175,000. The central Covenant Fund will match every dollar contributed locally with 75 cents.

This results in a $100,000 goal for the John A. Davis YMCA.

The method of raising the money is planned in three phases. Pattern gifts are being asked for from corporations, foundations and philanthropic individuals. Special gifts in excess of $1,000 will be sought. Then the contributions from the general public will complete the campaign. All contributions can be given over a three year period.

"At present the emphasis is on pattern and special gifts," says Warburton. It is planned to ask for the general public contributions beginning the first of next year. The new John A. Davis YMCA facilities are a necessity to meet the challenges and opportunities in a dynamic growing community. The need is now and the time is now."

Antique Cars On View Sunday At Scripps Ranch

Antique cars valued at more than $300,000, including a rare 1910 Mitchell, will be on public display Sunday at The Village Woods model homes in Scripps Ranch.

About two dozen vintage cars, owned by members of the Antique Automobile Club of America, will be available for viewing from noon to 4 p.m.

The display was arranged by developers of Scripps Ranch, as part of a Father's Day program, which will include drawings during the afternoon for free tickets to "Disney on Parade".

The 1910 Mitchell is owned by Marvin Nichols of Del Mar, who values the car at around $15,000. He said the close-coupled four-seater touring car was found in Nebraska eight years ago and restored.

"I believe there are one or two other Mitchells of that year still in existence," Nichols said. "But mine is the only one of its kind."

Other antique cars to be displayed include a 1906 EMF, a 1916 Cadillac, a 1919 Franklin and a 1932 Pierce Arrow.

Members of the Antique Automobile Club of America will tour from La Jolla to Scripps Ranch and many will be in costume.

The cars will be displayed outside The Village Woods model homes, which may be reached on Scripps Ranch by driving east on Pomerado road off Highway 395 and following the signs.

Safety Tips For Man with Mower

It's gardening season, when budding green thumbs get out and work in the yard. In the hope of reducing the number of accidents, minor and serious, that make the garden one of the hazards of American life, the Department of Safety and Research of the Combined Insurance Company of America offers a few words of advice to the man and woman with the hoe.

Gardeners are using power tools increasingly to ease the burden of their work. These tools include electrical trimmers, both battery operated and those requiring cords, power saws, power mowers, electrical and gasoline-operated, and mechanical grass cutters.

Other than endangering fingers and toes and a capacity for hurling rocks and other debris dangerously close to eyes, ears and mouth, battery-operated tools pose few hazards.

But the plug-in variety tell another story. They should never be used without a properly grounded three-wire connection or extension cord. The gardener must keep a sharp eye on the cord to make sure that it does not become snarled on machinery and severed with disastrous results.

Electrical equipment should never be used in the rain or when a gardener is standing in water unless he is wearing safety rubber footwear and rubber gloves. It is wise to wear safety glasses whether working in rain or sun.

Regardless of the source of power—battery or electric outlets—switches should be turned off whenever tools are not in use. If a grass cutter catches on a wire fence, a stone or a twig, shut it off and then dislodge the object; never try to do this with the motor turned on and 2risk losing a finger—or worse. And never leave a power tool untended for little hands to toy with.

As for power mowers, they should never be used when anyone else—adult or child—is nearby because they can throw stones that can harm, maim or kill. If it becomes necessary to remove anything from the blades, turn off the mower; never set fingers to any moving parts.

Chain saws require special precautions. Your footing must be firm lest you lose your balance, and the tool itself should be light enough to maneuver with ease. The wise woodsman never works alone; he has someone to help him plan his work, watch the falling limbs and help clear undergrowth with an axe before the sawing begins.

A wide variety of saws and mowers operate on gasoline motors. These call for still further precautions. Tanks should be filled only on bare ground, and a rigid no-smoking rule should be observed by those handling fuel or the machines it runs. A fire extinguisher should be kept near the pleace gasoline-operated equipment is stored.

The National Safety Council joins the Combined Insurance Department of Safety and Research in being adamant about another rule-of-green-thumb that should be applied to all gardening equipment:

Children should not be allowed to use any gardening tool or to regard any tools as toys when they are not in use.

In other words, gardening tools may be recreational equipment for adults, but they are not meant for child's play.

Levy Water Treatment Plant Expands Service

The R. M. Levy Water Treatment Plant may soon serve Otay and Rio San Diego municipal water districts, as well as Helix Water District, it was announced recently.

The plant, close to Lake Jennings, must be expanded to provide additional settling basins to meet more thorough treatment requirements for water from the State Project expected to be available in the fall of 1975.

Otay and Rio San Diego have no treatment facilities now, and are believed to be interested in getting filtered water from the Levy plant.

By John E. Wirges

They tell a story in the composing room about the happy-time editor who would only allow good news to be printed. Nothing but happy print, jokes and other light-hearted reports.

On the first try the paper looked like Spiro Agnew's volume of Wit and Wisdom — 147 page of empty paper. And it never got better. Just the thought of it makes you worry. Wouldn't it be terrible if newspapers were as poor recorders of the day's events as are television news reports?

But that is neither hither nor thither. The fact is that honest editors play news for what it is and very few "good" stories are all that newsworthy.

As an example, no one is running around or jumping up and down over the great job Ron Reina and John Maffei are doing getting things together for next week's National Collegiate Athletic Association's Golf Tournament at Carlton Oaks.

Nobody is, but perhaps someone should be pointing fingers and calling attention to how this pair of Aztec aides have labored long and hard to provide rooms during a convention week to coaches and players from 35 Universities from across the United States.

When you add a like number of indivdual links stars, NCAA officials and other free loaders who write, report or just watch with an officious eye, you realize some 300 billets had to have been provided.

Of course, great credit must go to the folks who manage, operate and care for the golf works out at Carlton Oaks. Not only did they take their profitable course out of production for a week in the heighth of the season, but they spend a considerable amount of cash and time in making beautiful Carlton Oaks even more attractive and playable.

And it's not like asking for space in a vacant lot. Carlton Oaks general manager Bill Jacobs, and his able assistant Bill Lanier, along with the Oaks' head pro Alan Campbell and his staff are all losing out-of-pocket funds during the NCAA tourney, but have all busted their backs to make players and officials feel warm with welcomeness and insure the operation a successful run.

And all of their hard work will come back in fond memories of our town by the nation's best collegiate golfers. Guys like Gary Koch, senior and team captain from defending champion Florida, who may be the best in the trade this year.

His professional career could bring him wealth and fame, and in future, bring him back to San Diego time and time again. And in those future years, his appearance could mean the success or loss of whatever tournament is important at the time.

Multiply Gary by the 300 or so being served this week by John Maffei, Ron Reina and workers at host San Diego State University, and by the hard working Carlton Oaks crew, and you very well might have a generous slice of what greater San Diego's future might be.

But since that kind of effort really isn't "news" very little of the how's and who's behind the tourney will get into print or on the air. No sir, no one is going to be able to accuse our media of doing a goody two-shoes job of reporting.

No sir. If it ain't bad ,it don't get in the paper and if it ain't light and meaningless, it don't get on TV. Not in our town.

That's too bad, too. Such a story would be a helluva way to welcome a fine group of our nation's future accomplishers, both business and athletic types, to our warm and wonderful town.

Welcome NCAA. If you ever get past our surface, we're a helluva place to live and grow kids.

ORV Renewal Notice Sent Out This Week

By July 31 almost every motor vehicle in California not carrying a license place for use of California streets and highways must display an off-highway vehicle (OHV) identifictaion sticker.

Renewal notices are being mailed this week to owners of 130,000 already-registered OHV's. A $15 renewal fee—good for two years and payable every even-numbered year—is due during July.

Autnorities believe tens of thousands of vehicles which are never placed on public pavement remain unregistered because their owners assume the OHV registration law doesn't apply to them. But the law allows virtually no exemptions from the registration requirement except for some farm, logging and special construction rigs.

Off-highway vehicles include all classes of motorcycles, minibikes, trail bikes, snowmobiles, dune buggies and all-terrain vehicles. To be towed, or transported on a highway in another vehicle, they must display the OHV sticker.

Late registration penalties raise the OHV fee to $18 after July 31st and $30 after August 30th.

Six dollars of the two-year registration fee goes to the State Department of Parks and Recration for the Off-Highway Vehicle Fund. This fund then is used for acquisition and development of facilities for off-highway vehicles, with local agencies contributing at least 25 percent of the total cost.

Of the balance of the registration fee, $5 is retained by DMV for administrative expenses and $4 is rebated to cities and counties.

TWO TIMER—Ron Overman, a El Cajon racer, became first two-time winner of main events this year at Cajon Speedway.
Jim Hitt of Lemon Grove and Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley will challenge him for leadership Saturday night.

Overman Takes Lead At Cajon Speedway

Super stock car action resumes Saturday at 8 p.m. at Cajon Speedway's asphalt oval with popular Ron Overman of El Cajon the man to beat.

Overman became the top point leader by winning last week's 30-lap main event and becoming the first driver to win two main events this season.

Six local speedsters will be looking for their second win, with 3 champions—Jimm Hitt of Lemon Grove and two-time champions Russ Bullen of Bonita and Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley along with Mark Stahl of Chula Vista, Tim Biggers of El Cajon and Mark Norris of Lakeside.

The 9th race of the current season will include the second Destruction Derby with 20 cars already signed up for the final event of the 9 event card.

60 cars will start qualifying at 6:30 p.m. with a 4 lap trophy dash, four 8 lap heats, a 15 lap semi main and a 30 lap main event.

The Destruction Derby will last until the last car has been eliminated.

Records continued to fall in last week's program with Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala. and local Ed Hale of El Cajon setting new marks. Allison in the 6 lap match race and Hale in a new 8 lap heat.

A new record has also been set in crash wall repairs as 7 cars were towed to the pits during last week's program.

Attendance continues to keep pace with last season's near record crowds. Attendance last week was 4,0007.

To date 32,130 fans have witnessed the popular super stocks of the El Cajon Association this season in the 8 meets run.

For seven years the French-Indian war was fought over who would win control of Canada and the Ohio-Mississippi Valley, the British or the French. Indians, allied with France, taught French soldiers how to hide and fight, but the British, unfamiliar with this method of waging war, finally won.

Talks Tonight, Fights Tomorrow

Middleweight Fighter Program of L.G. Lions

The popular San Diego middleweight boxer, David Love will meet Arizona middleweight champion Vicente Medina in the 10 round main event Friday at the S.D. Coliseum.

But tonight, he will keep a speaking engagement with the Lemon Grove Lions club as they hold their weekly get-together at the Ox Bow Inn in Casa de Oro.

Love, the speaker, will be accompanied by matchmaker-promoter Mickey Davies, who will add to the speaking program by describing the sometimes frustrating art of trying to get men who are dedicated to fighting into the same ring at the same time.

Davies, a noted raconteur, has not made public speaking appearances recently due to the pressure of business. In addition to operating the Coliseum, he is keeping frequent engagements as the television voice for video tapes of west coast fights. The tapes are distributed throughout the nation.

Love, one of the more articulate fighters on the local scene, is aiming at the national championship but he must first defeat the state champion, George Cooper, a feat he was unable to accomplish in a meeting earlier this year.

The world famous fight trainer, Angelo Dundee, took Love under his wing recently. It was Dundee who brought Muhammad Ali to the world heavyweight championship.

Dundee spoke glowingly of Love's championship chances when he phoned Sportscasters/Sportswriters Assn. Monday in a stopover at a Washington D.C. airport enroute from Florida to New York.

A syndicate of eight San Diego businessmen are in negotiation with Love to buy his contract as he works toward national fame. If the deal jells, each of the eight will put up $5,000 and Love will take a year's leave of absence from his job at the San Diego Post Office.

Last Week

The main go was an odd one. There was San Diego's Manuel Elizondo, back with his Mexican middleweight crown. The one he won May 11 at Monterrey. In the ring with him was veteran Jose Gonsalves, wiley as a high land fox. Gonsalves came out strong. It appeared this would be no push-over for the new champ. Gonsalvas won the first round. In the second round he had Elizondo wobbling — until he got a little too close to Elizondo. Then — ziggity zam — it was all over. Elizondo caught Gonsalves on the jaw with a hard right cross at 2:45 of the second round and that was the end of the 10-round confrontation.

It is probable that Elizondo will get a crack at the California middleweight title-holder George Cooper as the result of his victory but it is interesting to contemplate what might have been the outcome of the fight had he missed the right cross. He may not have weathered the storm.

In an 8-round co-feature, Golden Glover Randy Shields won his eighth straight fight since turning professional. He won a TKO over Jose Macias of Mexico City. Referee Bobby Valdez stopped the fight when it seemed that Macias was unable to defend himself. Fans did not agree with Valdez.

James Marshall, 148, could get only a split decision draw in his 8-rounder with Dave Arrellano, 150, but this scorecard had Marshall as winner.

Fights start at 8:15 each Friday night at the Coliseum.

"Pitch In!" Lauded

According to Governor John Gilligan of Ohio, "the United States Brewers Assn. in cooperation with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, has found the experimental use of "Pitch In!" materials to be effective in reducing litter in the state parks and constantly alerts Ohio's citizens of the need for litter prevention."

Padres Head East Today; Sign No. Two Draft Choice

The Padres will be heading East this week to begin a westward-bound road trip.

The revitalized Padres, following a nine-game homestand with Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, will be off for Montreal for a three-game weekend series with the Expos June 14-16.

Then, the club will begin heading back west with a three-game go-round with the Chicago Cubs in the Windy City June 17-19 and then wind things up on the road with three more outings against the Astros in Houston, June 21-23.

With the visits to Montreal and Chicago, the Padres will have completed their first full swing to all the cities in the National League's Eastern Division. The Pads paid visits to the other four Eastern Division cities (New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Pittsburgh) last month.

"We seem to be getting back into the swing of things," said Padre manager John McNamara. "Against the Cubs last week we got good, solid pitching from starters Lowell Palmer and Randy Jones plus some fine hitting from Derrel Thomas and Bobby Tolan so maybe we can start playing again like we did during that period when we won 11 out of 15.

"It looks as if our hitting is really coming around," continued the San Diego skipper. "We've been getting around 10 hits a game now for some time, but the pitching has been a big problem. Now if we can keep the hitting going, the way our pitchers are looking we may start winning our share."

The hitting attack does seem to be improving considerably as during one four-game stretch last week the Padres were averaging almost 12 hits a game and recorded a season-high of 17 against the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Louis.

The Padres also appear to be hitting with a little more power lately as they put together one stretch where they collected at least two extra base hits in seven out of 10 games.

No. 2 Draft Choice

Meanwhile the Padres have signed their number two draft choice, pitcher-first baseman Donnie Alfano by Padres General Manager Peter Bavasi announced.

Alfano, a 6-1, 195-pounder from Mt. Whitney High School in Visalia, Ca., has been assigned to the Padres Class A farm club at Walla Walla in the Northwest League.

"We were extremely pleased to have been able to draft Donnie at all," said Padres Director of Minor League Operation Mike Port. "There were a couple of ball clubs which had expressed an interest in taking him in the first round so we feel we were able to come up with two first-round caliber players in him and in number one pick Bill Almon.

"Donnie is a fine all-around athlete who could make it with us either as a pitcher or as a position ball player," summed up Port.

Alfano, 18, posted an eye-popping 36-3 record for Mt. Whitney in three seasons of varsity competition. He was 10-0 this season as a senior with a 1.31 ERA and 109 strikeouts in 75 innings. As a junior he was 12-2 and was 14-1 as a sophomore.

Hits .377

When not pitching he played first base and the outfield and hit a lusty .377 this past season with six home runs and 22 RBI. An All-West Yosemite League selection the last three years, he was his school's Most Valuable Athlete as a junior and senior.

An all-round athlete, he was also all-league three times in basketball.

"Donnie is truly an excellent athlete," said his coach, Art Shazhade.

I've never said this before about anyone, he's tne best player I've ever coached." Shazhade has been at Mt. Whitney for 22 years and has coached several major leaguers including pitcher Jack Aker and Kansas City's All-Star outfield hopeful Jim Wohlford.

"He has improved greatly as a pitcher over the past three years," related Shazhade. "As a sophomore he relied almost solely on blazing speed. Now, he's developed a pretty good change-up curve ball and has been able to learn how to mix up his pitches so the batters aren't always looking for the fast ball."

Shazhade also likes Alfano's chances as a position player, "I believe he could play first base with a lot of teams today. He's got good hands and can handle just about anything that comes his way. In fact, he might be a better first base prospect than as a pitcher."

Feed a Tree

Shade trees should be fertilized once a year, says the American Association of Nurserymen. A circle of holes should be made at the base around the tree and a small amount of fertilizer placed in the holes, the association said.

Cowboy Polo Debuts in SD

The fast-growing sport of Cowboy Polo makes its southland debut this weekend at San Diego Country Estates' new Western Equestrian Center with a clinic and matches staged by the national champion Denver team.

With five men to a team, the cowboy version is more aggressive than the English game. It is played on a smaller field and the action is fast and hard-hitting.

More than 100 teams in 25 states now participate in competition that leads to the national championship won in 1973 by the Denver club. Paul Dutton, outstanding center for Denver, is president of the National Cowboy Polo Association and predicts great popularity among southern California horse enthusiasts.

Matches start at 1:30 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday in the Western Equestrian Center's rodeo arena. Admission is free.

NEW STORE—Stan Totten, one of the pioneers of the Casa de Oro business scene, has occupied a new address at 9907 Campo rd. Totten operated Stan's Market from 1953 to 1962. He sold his interest in the market but operated the liquor department until 1973. His new location, a block west, is in a building recently constructed by Gil Ray.
In addition to the normal liquor store merchandise, Totten said he has stocked premium and imported wines. "Our beer refrigeration system," he said, "will keep beer at one degree above freezing."
He was president of the Spring Valley Lions club and zone chairman. He is active in the Masonic order.

Hang-10 Motocross At Carlsbad in July

A blazing motocross duel that is taking tnem back and forth across Europe and which will bring them to America next month, Heikki Mikkola and Roger DeCoster will get only two weeks breather before the Hang Ten United States Motocross Grand Prix at Carlsbad, July 14th.

Mikkola of Finland with 87 points and DeCoster of Belgium with 41 lead the motocross world standings for the 500cc motorcycle class, following another pitcher battle recently in the Italian Grand Prix near Milan.

The two traded victories in a pair of grueling 45-minute heats that staggered the overflow crow of 50,000 with their intensity. Mikkola, a bearded 28-year old ice racing enthusiast and motorcross veteran, has never owned a world championship before. His entrant, Husqvarna Motorcycles of Sweden, has not won a world championship since 1970.

DeCoster of Belgium, however, has been 500cc world champion for the past three years. The factory DeCoster rides for, Suzuki of Japan, has dominated motocross racing in either tne 250cc or 500cc world classes for the last eight years.

About 20 top-rated European motocrossers from 14 nations, including some from behind the Iron Curtain, will join Mikkola and DeCoster in their battle at Carlsbad.

In dogged pursuit of the world motocross title, Mikkola and DeCoster will visit eight countries on two continents, including America, before settling their feud in the Luxembourg finale August 11. The world motocross series is one of the most fatiguing in modern day racing.

Volleyball Coach To Be Replaced

San Diego State University Athletic Director Ken Karr announced today that volleyball coach Jack Henn has not be reappointed for the 1974-75 season.

Henn has been the Aztec volleyball coach since 1967 and led San Diego State to the NCAA Volleyball Championship in 1973. Last season the Aztecs finished fourth in the District 8 Regionals.

"We will begin our search for a new volleyball coach immediately," Karr said. "The post will be open to all qualified candidates both on a local and national level. The present popularity of volleyball on San Diego State's campus demands the best available coaching talent."

Mariners In Gulls Nest; Add Players

The Gulls have moved to the Stadium and the World Hockey League Mariners have moved into the Gulls former quarters.

Gull management is in Canada attending a National Hockey League meeting expecting to bring a WHL team to San Diego and WHL management is out shopping for furniture to make the Gulls' former residence livable.

WHL management is also acquiring some players for the coming season, according to Skip Feldman, vice president and general manager.

Fellman said the Mariners have acquired Kevin Devine, a left winger, from the Ontario Hockey League's Toronto Marlboroughs. Devine scored 40 goals last year and 29 assists while earning 218 penalty minutes. "He's rough and he's tough," Fellman said.

Earlier, the Mariners acquired Rick Sentes, a left winger from the Michigan Stags. He's a 26 goaler—5-11 and 185 pounds.

Fellman said the team is attempting to secure Rick Schartraw, a 6-2, 210 pound defenseman who is a top draft pick. "Right now we're trying to get season ticket sales off the ground," Feldman said.

More than 100 season tickets have been sold for the coming season, he said.

The Mariners telephone number is 225-9633. The address is 3501 Sports Arena blvd.

La Mesa Collegians Open Season with Two Doubleheaders

The La Mesa Collegians baseball club opens the 1974 summer season this weekend with a pair of doubleheaders. They open the season Saturday noon with a doubleheader against Riverside in Riverside, and come home Sunday for a noon doubleheader against National City at San Diego State.

The La Mesa team, which is made up of mostly San Diego area players with college eligibility remaining, plays a 36 game schedule which is split into two 18 game halves. The winner of the two halves meet at the end of the season in a best of three playoff.

The other teams in the league are National City (coached by USD's coach John Cunningham), Riverside, Ontario, Irvine, San Bernardino and San Fernando.

La Mesa will play a single game and six doubleheaders at S.D. State and six night games at Helix High School.

The objective of the team, which is managed by Gene Lamke of San Diego State, is to provide top summer competition for college players. La Mesa has an impressive list of alumni now playing professional baseball. The list includes, Jimmy Fuller (Orioles), Ralph Nasif (Twins), Rocky Craig (Twins), John Wathan (Royals), Cal Meier (Royals), Mark Wiley (Twins), Mike Reinbach (Orioles), Brad Cutler (Twins), Terry Scholfield (Royals), Ralph Stewart (Royals), Tommy Thompson (Twins), Steve Dunning (Indians) and Mike Coronado (Twins). Two players off last year's team were drafted this season. They are pitchers Randy Miller (Orioles) and Bill deLorimier (Padres).

The current La Mesa roster is at 26 players, but Lamke must cut down to at least 22 by Friday. Players assured a spot on the roster are pitchers Dave Steck (Mesa College), Dave Smith (S D State), Pat Williams (S D State), and Kevin Skahan (Palomar); catcher Jack Hacker (S D State), infielders Jim Skaalen (S D State), Randy Robinson (Palomar), and Gary Armstrong (El Capitan High School) and outfielder Jim French (Mesa College).

The team is financed by contributions from La Mesa and San Diego area merchants and by professional baseball. The coaches, managers and staff donate their time. Along with Lamke the coaches are Larry Willens and Dave Wiggens and of San Diego State, Paul Zetts from Patrick Henry High school.

Mail Hints Given For Vacationers

Postmaster Nate Hale today offered tips to help vacationers enjoy trouble-free mailing of letters and post cards while on their holiday:

Mail as early as possible in the day, preferably in the morning. Avoid mailing on weekends when many post offices are closed. Buy enough stamps before leaving home to prevent running out far away from the nearest post office.

Always use sufficient postage. For first-class cards, use an 8-cent stamp if the post card is not larger than the standard 4 1/4 x 6 inches size. For "jumbo" cards, 10-cent stamps are required. For airmail, use an 11-cent stamp on standard post cards and 13-cents for "jumbo" cards. As a general rule, use airmail stamps only when the mailing distance is 600 miles or more.

Remember to use ZIP Codes. Many times cards are addressed hurriedly while riding in cars, trains or planes. Legible ZIP Codes will help speed mail to its proper destination.

Keep this method in mind: Type the addresses of friends and relatives on self-adhesive labels before you leave home. It is surprising how much time this saves on the road and how much neater those cards will look.

Another note: Don't forget about your personal mail back home.

Remember to ask a friend or neighbor to empty your mailbox daily and to hold the mail until you return. An overstuffed box in your absence is an open invitation for thieves to enter your temporarily unoccupied home.

Telephone Total Tops 100,000

The East County reached another growth milestone this week with the announcement by Pacific Telephone that there are now 100,000 phones in use in the two-community area of La Mesa and Lemon Grove.

The La Mesa exchange, which also serves Lemon Grove, was established by PacTel in 1912 when there were just 200 phones in service.

Telephone growth has been accelerating rapidly in the La Mesa and Lemon Grove areas in recent years, according to E. J. Brunick, the utility's general customer operations manager in the county, who added that there was a net gain of 5,950 phones last year alone.

"That figures out to be about a 6.5 per cent annual growth rate," he said.

The telephone executive expained that for the phone company to show a net gain of just one instrument, it must connect, or disconnect or change the location of about 15 phones.

SDG&E Asks For Rate Hike To Meet Increasing Costs

San Diego Gas & Electric Company has filed a request with the Public Utilities Commission for another fuel adjustment electric rate increase to offset still rising fuel costs.

The request is sought under a procedure established by the PUC that enables the utility, with PUC approval, to adjust electric rates every three months to reflect increases or decreases in the cost of fuel for power generation.

In its fuel adjustment request, the company seeks a $15 million increase to become effective July 1. The company said the increase would amount to 6.2 percent and would add 87 cents per month to the electric bill of residential customers using an average of 486 kilowatt hours per month.

The increase is needed, the company added, to offset an $8.1 million advance in the price of oil fuel and natural gas for power plant generation, a $4.1 million increase in costs due to reduced availability of natural gas and changes in diesel and residual oil requirements and a $2.8 million increase resulting from changes in system load and the availability of purchased power.

Easier for Sailors To Pay Water Bills

Navy personnel will be able to pay their Helix Water District bills through the San Diego Navy Federal Credit Union following action by the Helix board of directors last week.

Responding to a request from the credit union, the Helix board approved use of the credit union's offices as collection stations, under terms similar to those which apply to several local banks and other businesses.

In other action, the board reaffirmed its determination that another project in its continuing program of pipeline replacements will not have a significant effect on the environment.

The project approved includes three locations in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, according to Bob Rundell, Helix vice-president. Small diameter pipe will be replaced by six and eight inch pipe to improve fire flows and eliminate leakage problems, he said.

In Hartzel dr., from Saddle dr. to the alley south of Golf dr., and in the alley, 400 feet to the west, 368 feet of six-inch pipe and 494 feet of eight-inch pipe will be installed.

In the same area, 2590 feet of eight-inch pipe will be installed in Golf dr. from Foursome dr. to Lakeview dr. and south along Lakeview.

The third area is the installation of 657 feet of eight-inch water main in Madison ave. from Buena Vista ave. to New Jersey ave. Total cost of the project is estimated at $76,700.

'Greatest Show' Due

The first German Democratic Republic cultural attraction ever to perform in the U. S. will appear in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus July 9-14 at the Sports Arena. It is the 104th edition of the "Greatest Show on Earth".

The Samel Mixed Animal Act's present tour of the United States and Canada marks the first time it has been outside Eastern Europe. The act features tigers, lions, bears, a polar bear, a black panther, a puma and a leopard.

The Samels performance will mark the first time in 32 years that Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus will present an animal act of such diversity. In 1941 and 1942 the legendary Alfred Court worked with a varied group of animals that included lions, tigers, leopards and bears.

Tickets are available at all Arena ticket agencies.

Rummage Sale Sat.

The San Diego Marching Band will hold its semi-annual rummage sale Saturday at 8095 Imperial ave., near Ace Drive In, in Lemon Grove.

Second baseman Jim Williams, who paced USD to a 23-15 won-lost record this season, has been named to the NCAA College Division baseball District 8 all-star squad.

The 160-pound senior finished his collegiate career for the Toreros by taking the team batting crown with an even .400 average. He also topped San Diego in runs scored (38), hits (56), triples (7), total bases (78) and stolen bases (21).

Williams, who transferred to USD from Mesa College in 1973, batted .324 for the Toreros last year.

His selection marks the fifth straight season USD has placed at least one player on the all-District squad. Catcher John Wathan (1970), pitcher Gary Myron and outfielder Kerry Dineen (1971) and Dineen (1972 and '73) were named to the all-District team and the NCAA all-American squads.

Disabled Vets Benefits Rise

The timetable for payment of increases to some 2.5-million service disabled veterans and dependents of veterans who died of service-connected disabilities was reported today by the Veterans Administration.

A new law (Public Law 93-295) signed by the President May 31 increased disability compensation payments to veterans by 15 to 18-per cent, and dependency and indemnity compensation for widows and children by about 17-per cent. The statute made the increases retroactive to last May 1.

A separate retroactive check covering the increases for the months of May and June will be sent by VA to the veterans and dependents by mid-July.

The regular monthly checks due next on July 1 will be paid at the old rate, but the new increases will be reflected in checks received August 1 and thereafter.

VA officials emphasized that no application or inquiry will be necessary to receive the increased amounts. The increases, they said, will be made by the agency automatically for all veterans and dependents.

Dumptruckers Meet To Discuss Labor Dispute

All San Diego independent owner-operators of dump trucks are invited to attend a meeting with AGC, EGCA and BCA contractors this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Service Room, College Grove Shopping Center, to discuss the owner-operator clause in the up and coming labor agreement.

The California Dump Truck Owners Association (CDTOA) and Associated Independent Owner-Operators (A100) are jointly sponsoring this meeting to consider this recent conflict with the Teamsters Union.

Chuck Baird, Chairman of the San Diego Chapter of CDTOA, and Bob Raquet, president of A100's local chapter are asking all owner-operators to be present at this meeting.

At the last meeting on May 15th of the owner-operators, the dumptruckers approved (1) announcing that owner-operators are totally and completely opposed to any payroll status for owner-operators (2) that no owner-operator present at the meeting will go on a job that has payroll status, and (3) communicate with AGC, EGCA and BCA contractors and encourage them to support the owner-operators in their stand to remain an independent businessman just like the contractor.

For additional information, call CDTO at (213) 726-7806 or A100 at (213) 941-5781.

NCAA Golf Finals Set For Carlton Oaks

Players, coaches and officials are expected to start arriving late this week fo the NCAA Golf Finals to be held June 19-22 at Carlton Oaks Country Club in Santee and hosted by San Diego State University.

A field of 32 teams, including defending NCAA Champion University of Florida, are expected along with 54 individuals from University Division schools and the top 10 players from the College Division Finals.

Carlton Oaks is expected to be in top shape as the greens and fairways have been manicured for the tournament and the roughs are tall and will play tough.

The course is a par 73 and plays approximately 6980 yds. There are 10 par-four holes, four par-three holes nad four par five holes. The fifth hole is 530 yards.

The nine hole is 510 yards with water and sand surrounding the green and out of bounds to the right of the green. Hole 12 is 535 yards, but is straight and the green has no traps. A good payer can reach the green in two.

The 16th hole is the longest and perhaps toughest on the course at 540 yards with water off the tee, water near the green and three traps surrounding the green.

"We've been over the course and it's in great shape," said San Diego State golf coach Frank Scott. "I honestly think it will play much tougher than when a lot of these teams were out here for our Aztec Invitational and no one really tore up the course in that tournament.

"I think the course will play tough, but still be a very fair test for the players. The player who wins the tournament will have to play very consistent golf and try to stay out of the rough which is very long and will play very tough."
